

Worksheet 11: HTML Events

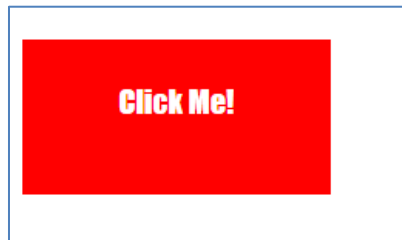

1. Create the following web page:

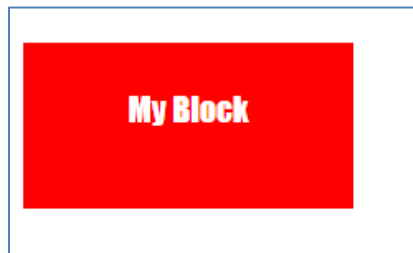

- a) You are to create a block in your page with the same style as shown above.
- b) You can use any form of styling as long as it is very similar to the screenshot shown above. Ensure the following:
 - i. The width for this block needs to be of around 200px.
 - ii. The height for this block needs to be of around 100px.
 - iii. The background colour should be similar to the picture shown above.
 - iv. Text colour should be white.
 - v. The font style and font size should be changed.
 - vi. Text should be shown at the center.
 - vii. Text should be shown somewhere close to the block's middle (not necessarily at the middle of the page).
- c) If the user hovers the mouse pointer over the block, the text should change as follows:

- d) If the user actually does click on that block, the block should change as follows:

- e) At any point, if the user hovers the mouse pointer out of the block, the text should change back to the original text

- f) If the user double clicks on the block, a different colour should be used for the block's background colour
